Rec. Copy N-1979

PREFACE

The antecedents of the Farabees recorded in this volume resided in the northwestern part of England and were of Scotch-Irish origin.

There appears to be no record showing when the first Farabees in America arrived here. The earliest record that I have found relative to the Farabees in America shows that in 1758 Caleb Farabee was captain of a company of Kent County, Delaware, militia. He is the ancestor of all the Farabees recorded in this volume, and is probably a brother of Waitus Farabee, who had a son Caleb Farabee, who was born November 22, 1752, in Kent County, Delaware, and served in Captain Manney's Company in the War of the Revolution. This Caleb died April 16, 1837, in Monongalia County, Virginia (now West Virginia), leaving no children. If there is any record showing that Waitus Farabee had any daughter or son other than Caleb, I have not found it.

There is another family line in America who are related to us, but they spell the name Ferebee. Their ancestors came from Kent, England, and settled in Camden and Currituck Counties, North Carolina, and in Norfolk and Princess Anne Counties, Virginia. Dr. N. M. Ferebee, Oxford, North Carolina, had been collecting the Ferebee names quite awhile before I began on our line, and I decided to not include any of the Ferebees in connection with our line.

There does not appear to be any record showing the name of the wife of Caleb Farabee, Sr., or the date or place of his birth or death. He had six sons and one daughter whose names are recorded in chronological order at the beginning of this volume. Each of the seven names is preceded by a letter, A, B, C, D, E, F or G, which is in the lines of descent to prevent any mixing of lines and aids in tracing relationship. Each blood relative also has a numeral 1, 2, 3, 4, 5, 6 or 7, placed by the side of the letter which precedes his or her name, showing to which generation in the lines of descent from Caleb Farabee he or she belongs. In each family the father or mother, whichever is our blood relative, is placed at the head of the family having the correct letter and numeral preceding his or her name. Next comes the other parent, who is not a blood relative in our lines, who does not have any letter or numeral preceding his or her name. Then follow the names of all the children, recorded in the order in which they were born, each having the same letter preceding his or her name that his or her father or mother has, and a numeral one number higher than the one preceding the parent's name (parent A 3, child A 4) (or parent C 4, child C 5, etc.).

The first column on each page is for names preceded by the letter A, B, C, D, E, F or G, which shows the line of descent from Caleb Farabee, and by a numeral 1, 2, 3, 4, 5, 6 or 7, showing to which generation in this volume each belongs. The second column has the dates and places of birth, and the third column has the dates and places of death, or, if living, the last known address. Where a death has occurred and no date is given the letter D is put at the left of the column showing that the person recorded there is dead. If the place given is where the person is living the letter A is put there showing that that is his or her address.

For example:

A.	D.
Beloit, Ohio (address);	Beloit, Ohio (place of death).

I very much regret that my eight years correspondence has failed to get much-desired information from many families. How ever, I do not regret the expenditure of nearly five hundred dollars traveling expenses to many states where I was so kindly treated and received so much desired information. I will never forget the lovely relatives I met and the continual kindness I received. I sincerely thank all who have assisted me in getting desired information and all who have done so much to add to my happiness.

I hope that this volume will help to bind the family ties more closely and that we may all have a happy home together in the future.

LOUIS THOMAS FARABEE.
